FEMALE WEAKNESS

542 1-2 Congress St.
PORTLAND, MAINE, Oct. 17, 1902.

I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I suffered for nine months with suppressed menstruation which completely prostrated me. Pains would shoot through my back and sides and I would have blinding headaches. My limbs would swell up and I would feel so weak I could not stand up. I naturally felt discouraged for I seemed to be beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After nineteen days treatment I menstruated without suffering the agonies I usually did and soon became regular and without pain. Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Wilhelmina Sawyer
Treasurer, Portland Economic League

Periodical headaches tell of female weakness. Wine of Cardui cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases of irregular menses, bearing down pains or any female weakness. If you are discouraged and doctors have failed, that is the best reason in the world you should try Wine of Cardui now. Remember that headaches mean female weakness. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui today.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N.Y.

The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation.

Sex In Eating.

A woman enjoys well cooked, well served food, but her happiness does not depend upon it so completely as does a man's. Without regular, abundant meals a man is disturbed in spirit and considers himself abused. When a man loses his appetite it is because of some physical ailment, never a mental one. A great blow may make the touching of food an actual impossibility for his sister for hours, or even days; but, no matter if the foundations of the earth were shaken, the ordinary man can eat. He can eat at any time or all the time. I know a man who is "living on the street" during his wife's absence, and he confesses to averaging five meals a day.

Food so often is not more than raiment with a girl. Investigate the light housekeeping arrangements of sky parlors, or even first class rooms, and consider the well gowned girl therein and see if it is. I know a girl, and a college girl, who existed on 87 cents for one week in order to buy an expensive trifle her mother's good sense had denied her. Shopgirls, they say, sacrifice their lunches to buy a Laura Jean Libbey novel, but where is the man that ever goes without a reasonable amount of good food for any need he may have?—Brown Book.

Powerful Odor of Ambergris.

The druggist held in his hand a lump of gray substance like putty. It was smaller than a baseball and as light as cork. Through it, here and there, ran streaks of yellow and black.

"This is a lump of ambergris," the druggist said. "It is worth about $500, I judge. Smell it."

The patron put his nose to the ambergris. Then he said, surprised:

"Why, it has no smell."

"Crude ambergris," he said, "never smells until you warm it or rub it.

"This chunk of ambergris here smells like musk. That is because it is crude. The odor of prepared ambergris has not the least resemblance to musk."

He rubbed his hand over his sleeve.

"From handling this" he said, "my coat will smell for months. My hands, no matter how I wash them, will smell for several days."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Crystallizing Flowers.

The process of crystallizing flowers is simple and can be satisfactorily accomplished by any one who has artistic skill. Arrange some basket forms of any desired pattern with pliable copper wire and wrap them with gauze. Into these tie to the bottom violets, ferns, geranium leaves—in fact, any flowers except full blown roses—and sink them in a solution of alum of one pound to a gallon of water. Wait until the solution has cooled, as the colors will then be preserved in their original beauty, and the crystallized alum will hold them faster than when formed in a hot solution. When you have a light covering of crystals that completely envelops the articles, remove cheerfully and allow it to drip twelve hours. These baskets make a unique ornament and long preserve their freshness.

Rameau and the Dog.

Many eccentricities are pardoned in musical geniuses, especially by those who do not suffer from them. Unfortunately the object of a musician's wrath is quite apt to be unable to appreciate why he has offended.

One can fancy the possessor of the untrained voice who figures in the following story thinking hard things of the celebrated composer Rameau.

One day Rameau while calling on a lady fixed a stern glance on a little dog who sat in her lap and was barking good naturedly. Suddenly Rameau seized the poor little fellow and threw him out of the window.

"What is the matter?" asked his hostess, much alarmed.

"He barked false!" said Rameau indignantly.

A Puzzler.

At an examination in an English school the teacher was so pleased with his class that he said they could ask him any question they liked.

Some were asked and replied to. Seeing one little fellow in deep thought, the teacher asked him for a question. The boy answered, with a grave face:

"P-please, sir, if you was in a soft mud heap up to your neck and I was to throw a brick at your head, would you duck?"

The answer is not recorded.

Quite Different.

Mother—You've been sitting in the conservatory all this time, and with young Charlie Brown! Am I never to instill a sense of decency in you? Daughter—'Twas Lord Copperbulge I was with, mamma, dear. Mother—Oh, that's a different matter. Girls will be girls!

For a Rainy Day.

Smith (newly married)—Don't you think we had better lay aside something for a rainy day? Young Wife—Charley, dear, I am so glad you said that. While I was out shopping this morning I bought two lovely silk umbrellas, one for you and one for me.

His Public Speech.

Mrs. Littlewit (proudly)—Only just think! Charles has gone to address a public gathering. Friend—I didn't know he was a speechmaker. Mrs. Littlewit—Nor I, but he's been called upon to make a statement before a meeting of his creditors.

His Recipe.

Long Haired Poet (singing)—There is no breeze that can cool the heat of love. Disappointed Benedict—Ever tried the marriage refrigerator, son?—New Orleans Picayune.

First English Letter.

The oldest letter written in English of which there is record was that to Sir John Pelham in London by his wife, who was then in Kent. That letter is dated March 22, 1339, and was sent to London by messenger.

Up to the commencement of the reign of Edward I., all letters, even of the most private nature, were written in Latin. About the time of Edward's accession, French, which had been the spoken language of the court from the time of the conquest, began to be used in written correspondence. In the reign of Edward III. the English language, in pursuance of an act of parliament, was made the language of legislation.

Bobby Burns and the Mayor.

On one occasion, arriving at Carlisle on horseback, Bobby Burns is said to have turned his steed out to grass for awhile, and the animal strayed on to a meadow belonging to the corporation and got impounded. Although the horse was given up to him, the poet retaliated upon the mayor, whose tenure of office was to expire on the very morrow of the incident, as follows:

Was e'er puir poet sae befitted?
The maister drunk—the horse committed!
Puir harmless beast, tak' thee nae care;
Thou'lt be a horse when he's nae mair (mayor).

Sure to Be Overfed.

"Ah, doctor, glad to meet you," said Mr. Forsyte. "I wish you'd drop around to the house at about 9 this evening."

"None of the children sick, I hope?"

"No. But they will be when they get back from their grandmother's. They're there for supper."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Delicate Scorn.

"I observe that you invariably praise your rivals," said one actress.

"Yes," answered the other. "It's the wisest thing to do. It sounds magnanimous and also conveys the impression that you do not consider them worth being jealous of."—Washington Star.

Cromwell and the Specter.

The stories of the "White Lady" that periodically visits the German royal family and of the "Little Red Man" that frequently paid his respects to the great Napoleon are tolerably well known, especially that of the former. But few, perhaps, are familiar with the story of Cromwell's "Giant Specter." It appeared to him one night when he was wide awake and quietly resting on his couch. In appearance the apparition was a woman of gigantic proportions. Approaching him she announced in tones like thunder, "Within the year you, my son, will be recognized as the greatest man in Britain."

Creation of a Knight.

The ceremonies at the creation of a knight have been various; the principal were a box on the ear and a stroke with a sword on the shoulder. John of Salisbury tells us the blow with the naked fist was in use among the ancient Normans; by this it was that William the Conqueror conferred the honor of knighthood on his son Henry. It was afterward changed into a blow with the flat of the sword on the shoulder of the knight.

Sprains

S A. Read, Cisco, Texas, writes, March 11, 1901: "My wrist was sprined so badly by a fall that it was useless; and after using several remedies that failed to give relief, used Ballard's Snow Liniment, and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains." 25c, 50c, $1. Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

The Secret of Success.

The secret of success is, in fact, no secret at all, for the factors of success are apparent to every observer of human affairs. One needs but to look at the successful man and to analyze his character and qualifications in order to fathom this so-called secret of success.

Every man has within him the necessary elements to win success, but the failure to recognize and utilize them causes many of mankind to fail.

The best definition of success is perhaps the one which recognizes it as the attainment of any desire. Yet according to this definition success might mean the attainment of any base as well as noble desire. The forger might win success by being expert in crime. Public opinion, however, regulates this, and by success in the general acceptation of the term we mean the attainment of a noble desire. The poor man who desires wealth and through his ability and thrift gains it is a success in life. The musician who attains to the eminence of a Mascagni or a Paderwiskii is a success. The office boy who gains the eminence of a Gladstone, is a success. The mechanic who wins the laurels of an Edison is a success.

The man who is successful in making and saving money must possess several characteristics. He must first of all know his business. Even though he be nothing but a street sweeper he must do it well. He must attract the attention of his employer. He must demonstrate his superiority. Then will come advancement, and he must not then imagine that he no longer must look to himself. It does not pay to linger on any one rung of the ladder of success. Keep moving. If you don't some other fellow will pass you.

A man must be saving, else all the money he earns will go to make others rich. He must have foresight else others will take up investments that might have made him affluent. When you have got the wealth even then it takes ability to keep it and manage it. The man who wins $15,000 in the lottery and can't keep it is surely not a success.

To be a successful musician means untiring energy, work, ambition, enthusiasm, concentration and talent. Talent you must have to make a successful musician, yet without the other qualities talent is worth nothing. We have all heard of the undeveloped talent of the mute inglorious Milton's.

The successful statesman is the man of tact—the politic man, the thoughtful man, the enthusiast.

The inventive genius is a man of untiring energy, one who will not be discouraged, one to whom failure is but the incentive to try, try again, one who reasons and always hopes.

These qualities then—enthusiasm, energy, ambition, concentration, foresight, frugality, tact and talent are the principal essentials of success.

The Womens' Clubs Ideal President.

The recent analysis of Womens' Clubs ideal President was given recently in the "Club Woman," in part as follows: "In the long list of qualities necessary to the successful President, it is hard to say which is the most important. One without the other would be useless, but the combination makes the perfect leader. To have convictions and to have the courage of them would seem a first necessity. Confidence is only inspired by the strong. The hero who has to be kept up on his pedestal by the strength of others will topple sooner or later. Though all the world withdraw, he must still stand upon his own feet in such firm self-reliance that those who will not follow must at least admire. To strength we must add honor, honorableness and high ideals, righteousness and trust. Thus far the gifts are God-given. It is this part of the President that is born, not made, but upon this foundation a very necessary and very pretty edifice can be built. Tact, the great word that means so much and is so hard to define, before which the most threatening storms of human emotion vanish into thin air, is indispensable, especially in the woman President. The soothing word, the courteous reply, the kindly sympathy and timely silence, all these may be included in the trite little word, and still the half has not been told. Without it a president possessed of extraordinary mind and dominating force may be successful; with it she cannot fail. Impersonality is also a necessary requirement. One may be self-reliant, but not self-conscious. Egotism, egoism and every other ego must be wiped out, laid aside and forgotten. To be the imcumbent of a high office, and to hold that high office in trust and with honor, without any thought of personal aggrandizement and without forcing the personal not any further than is absolutely necessary to guide harmonious elements to a safe conclusion is to be beloved, honored and exalted. Exalt thyself and thou shalt be humbled. Forget thyself in thine effort to do the right thing and up thou shall go into the high places. Fortunately the type described above is not extinct. Rare she may be, but still a few women possessing all the attributes of leadership are to be had, and from the number choose your next president."

LIVING FROM HAND TO MOUTH.

It Means Starvation for Some.

An eminent physician of this city recently said: "Very thin people live from hand to mouth, and have little reserve for emergencies." Of course we know of persons whose nature it is to be thin—"born that way," some say, but there is a healthy standard by which a person who knows himself can gauge his good health or poor health. If for any reason he or she is below his or her normal weight, then it is wise to look out for trouble. In case the germs of grippe, typhoid, or consumption gain an entrance to the body they find a fertile field and develop immediately. We can only compare this sudden taking on of disease germs by the thin body, to the fertile field which lays fallow until an unfortunate wind carries the seeds of some wild and worthless plant there and they quickly root and flourish. Almost any grave change in health is at once betrayed by the loss of flesh, which shows most often in the face. This condition almost always co-exists with impoverished blood. A gain of flesh up to a certain point means a rise in other essentials of health; the red corpuscles of the blood are increased, and the color improved. When persons find themselves losing weight they should heed the warning, and use the proper means in time before disease fastens on them. A tonic alterative is needed to digest and assimilate the food.

Cod-Liver Oil was the old fashioned remedy for a run-down system, or a chronic wasting disease. The digestion of the oil is a task for the healthiest stomach, and sensitive stomachs rebel against it. A great improvement in the means employed for the benefit and cure of such cases is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which maintains the nutrition of the body by enabling the person to eat, retain, digest and assimilate food. It overcomes indigestion if present, soothes the cough, and, by its alterative properties, cleanses the blood. All the organs therefore are fed on pure, rich blood; and the person using the "Golden Medical Discovery" gains in flesh and strength. Fever, night-sweats, headache, are dispelled. It is just the remedy for the Consumptive, for the victim of Catarrh of the Lungs, or the sufferer from Bronchitis.

For over a third of a century Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been in common use in this country, been taken by thousands of people and has cured thousands as our file of testimonials will prove—yet no one ever heard of its harming a single person. That is because it is made of purely vegetable ingredients—is scientifically prepared in the Medical Laboratory of the World's Dispensary, at Buffalo, N. Y. under the supervision of Dr. R. V. Pierce

$3,000 FORFEIT will be cheerfully paid in lawful money of the United States, by the undersigned, proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, if they cannot show the originial letters and signatures of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing attesting the superior curative properties of their several medicines, and thus proving the genuineness and reliability of all the multitude of testimonials volunteered by grateful people, in their behalf.

Mr. Roy A. Reed, of Casper, Wyoming, writes: "For eight years I had catarrh of the throat in the very worst form; could hardly speak above a whisper for two years. Tried nearly a dozen patent medicines without relief. I was so discouraged that I just about decided catarrh could not be cured with any medicine. My father, however, advised me to try Dr. Pierce's medicines before giving up. I followed his advice and commenced using the medicine on the twentieth of December. I was surprised to note the result of the first month's treatment. After using six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, I was perfectly cured. It has been months since I took the last medicine, and I have not had the least return of my trouble. I have felt beetter during the past two months than for seven winters previous to this time."

Mrs. Lydia James, of Ogdensburg, Wis., writes: "In regard to your medicine will say that the 'Colden Medical Discovery' is a God-send to suffering women. I was sick in bed with liver complaint and kidney disease and fever when I began to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. In ten days' time I was so I could begin to get around the house, and gained right along. After that, took about five bottles of it and am sure I would have been in my grave by this time had it not been for this remedy. I would advise all suffering women to use Dr. Pierce's medicines."

Mrs. Robt. Lambden, of Havana, N. Dak., Box 94, writes: "No one can tell how much I suffered with my leg. It was so bad for a year I could hardly walk around to do my work, and at times couldn't even bear the weight of a sheet over me at night, but your medicines cured me. My leg is quite well again. After I had taken two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, I began to feel very different and kept getting better. Took nine bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' also used Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, and now my leg is as well as it ever was. Am willing every one should know what good your medicines have done, and would advise any one suffering as I did to try the same treatment. I think and feel sure it will help them."

THE REASON.—There is no medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for purifying the blood. It carries off the poisons which contaminate the life fluid. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands and gives the body an increased supply of pure, body-building blood. It builds up the body with sound, healthy flesh instead of flabby fat, promotes the appetite, feeds the nerves, and so gives to weak, nervous people vitality and vigor.

There is no alcohol contained in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

J. Chauvet transacted business in Sonoma Wednesday.

Mrs. James O'Rouke, who has been quite ill, has fully recovered.

Frank Lemoine has covered the addition to his winery with elaterite roofing. James Gibson has the contract for putting on this up-to-date roofing.

The extensive repairs on the California Home, which have been underway for some time past, are completed and the mechanics have returned to their various homes.

The Riverside Hotel is adding to its already fine and attractive appearance right along. At present a substantial stone bulkhead is being put in to prevent the encroachment of the waters of the creek on the grounds surrounding this popular resort during flood years. The new dancing platform recently erected adjoining the hotel, has been one of its most pleasing features the past summer.

The ranchers in this vicinity are busy attending to their fruit and grape crops. Tom Johnson has some fifteen or twenty tons of dried prunes cured in the most scientific manner. His dried Bartlett pears are almost like wax—transparent, with a beautiful tint and delicious flavor. Olives, however, are Mr. Johnson's specialty. His pickled olives and olive oil command the highest market prices.

There was quite a commotion in Judge Gibson's home a few days ago. His young son and heir swallowed about two ounces of coal oil, and shortly afterwards, while having his temperature taken by Dr. Crepin, who had been called in to the little fellow's relief, he bit off the end of the thermometer and sent that down the same route, mercury and all, to keep the coal oil company. By the timely application of proper remedies and the skillful treatment of the doctor, the youngster was soon out of danger and none the worse for the experience he had passed through.

Rural delivery is designed to be an advantage to people living in the suburbs of our towns aud cities, a progressive step toward convenience and enjoyment when properly conducted. We have got the service here, such as it is, but we are all wondering if the Postal Inspector or delivery clerk, before laying out the Glen Ellen route, had not been reading the scriptures and became inspired with the passage: "The first shall last and the last first". The route should really be turned upside down and wrong side out. As it is now arranged the start is made by climbing the steepest hill on the trip through a sparsely settled country and by the time the first delivery is made enough time has been consumed to have served half the valley. This is a case where quantity should be considered instead of quality. All this while the valley mail is being transported "over the hills and far away," Graham canyon, Kenwood, Nunn's canyon and other remote spots, arriving weary and worn after six or seven hours at its destination in the valley, where the greatest number of people reside. People living within thirty minutes walk of the Postoffice and who have been accustomed to getting their mail within an hour or two after its arrival at the postoffice and whose business really requires an early delivery do not under the present delivery system receive their letters until after the last train has departed for San Francisco and important business letters have to lay over until another day Now, the valley people are the ones who felt the need of a rural delivery service, and who worked for and secured it. These are the least benefited. In fact they are not benefited at all by it, for their letters, which may require immediate answers by return mail, reach them too late under present conditions. There is mismanagement somewhere. Is it the fault of the inspector? Or should we be given an automobile service that would cover the eighteen miles in time to receive and answer letters the same day? Cannot something be done to retain our rural delivery service by getting earlier hours of delivery? Otherwise, people will be obliged to take down their boxes, and that would mean the discontinuance of the aoute.

Mr. Lyman Green and Miss Denny of Petaluma attended the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club anniversary Wednesday evening.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB ANNIVERSARY.

The Woman's Club celebrated its second anniversary on Wednesday evening with a reception held at the club rooms on Spain street. The rooms were artistically decorated in trailing vines, red flowers and autumn leaves. About one hundred club members and friends were present and the ladies were handsomely gowned and made a striking appearance. While the number of gentlemen present was not conspicuously large those who attended had a delightful time.

There was an informal program throughout the evening. Mrs. Lulu de Emparan sang, Mr. H. R. Dakin gave some of his inimitable monologues, Miss Denny of Petaluma rendered a vooal solo. Mrs. Ringstrom and Miss Maud Fraser were also heard in song. Miss Minnie Cook gave a reading and Mrs. F. T. Duhring rendered an instrumental solo, as did also Miss Marie Clewe. Mr. C. Weber made a great hit with his whistling.

Later, water ices were served by the refreahment committee of the club, which numbers among it some of the organization's fairest maids and matrons.

Conductor Jack Smith is Seriously Injured

Jack Smith, the popular conductor of the California Northwestern met with a serious accident, on Friday of last week, which may cause him to lose the sight of one of his eyes. Mr. Smith was engaged in cleaning up the yard of his home in Santa Rosa, on the day in question, when the shovel he was working with came in contact with an old beer bottle which contained some ketchup which had fomented while exposed to the rays of the hot sun of last week. Suddenly the bottle exploded with a loud report and was shattered into many fragments, one of which struck Mr. Smith in the left eye, lacerating it in a terrible manner. The cut extended from the lower lid clear up through the pupil. Two eye specialists, who were summoned from San Francisco, hold out little hope for saving the sight of the eye.

Street Lights Now On

C. T. Ryland has agreed to light the streets of Sonoma with twenty-five 32 candle power incandescent globes for $35 per month. The lights have been turned on all the week.

The regular Saturday night hop will be given at El Verano Villa. Ghiradelli's orchestra, as usual, will furnish the music.

James J. Jeffries, champion pugilist, will appear before the footlights in Santa Rosa on October 4th. He will be the hero of a play and will also box eight rounds with Joe Kennedy, his sparring partner.

The wedding of Miss Jennie Dutil and Lawrence Lalane will be solemnized in St. Francis' church Saturday, September 24th.

Jack Larsen, formerly of this place but who is now conducting a restaurant in Seattle, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. T. H. Baines.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Weems boarded the train here Monday for Vallejo, where they negotiated for a new ark to be moored in Sonoma creek.

J. Carlson, our tonsorial artist, has left for San Francisco. Next season El Verano will have two new barber shops which will be run by union barbers.

Leo Baines, who recently went to San Francisco to acccpt a position on the Call has returned home. Leo is a Democrat and says that newspaper is too much the other way for him, and he will seek a job elsewhere.

Phil Rossi of this burg has also gone into the race horse business. He was seen driving toward Sonoma Sunday holding the ribbons over his thoroughbred. Phil looked like Tod Sloan and held the reins as though he had been there before.

Hoss! hoss!! hoss!!! is the talk in El Verano. J. B. Bacon of Schellville was in town Tuesday and was seen at the blacksmith shop. Rumor now has it that the famous Roxy Murphy and Mr. Bacon's thoroughbred will soon be matched to settle the mooted question as to whether Schellville or El Verano has the best race horse.

The quiet of our little burg was rudely disturbed Tuesday evening by one of our well-known townsmen and a cable car gripman from San Francisco engaging in a mix-up. "Hooligan," as usual when anything exciting is going on, was on the spot, and it was really awful laughable to see the go. The El Verano man used rocks and sticks while the man that runs the cars used his fists, grassing his adversary. Two friends came to the rescue of the home man and the gripman had a rib broken. At this juncture officer Ryan appeared on the scene and stopped the fight, leaving the home man the champion brick-thrower of the world.

The meeting, which is being arranged by J. E. Poppe, Jos. Potter, H. R. Dakin and A. M. Hardman, Republican county committeemen for Sonoma, San Luis, Agua Caliente and Glen Ellen, promises to be the biggest and liveliest of the campaign. The Sonoma Valley Band will play and dancing will follow the speaking.

Heavy September Showers

Heavy showers of rain began to fall in this valley early Thursday evening and continued until Friday morning, soaking the ground thoroughly. This is the earliest rainfall known in this section for many years. No harm has been done to grapes or other crops so far as is known. The precipitation, as reported by local U. S. signal service observer Robert Hall, was 2 01 inches, a record breaker for this season of the year.

Ancient Spanish Coin

A. Pinelli, the owner of one of Sonoma's landmarks of the pioneer days, an old adobe building known as the Blue Wing saloon, a gambling resort frequented by Joaquin Murietta, Three Fingered Jack and other cut throats of the early fifties, made an interesting find the other day underneath the floor of the old structure. It was an ancient Spanish coin dated 1781 and the name Carolus III is stamped upon it.

When an Iceberg Turns Turtle.

Think of sections bigger than Rhode Island being torn from a glacier and swept off into the ocean, to be ferried 3,000 miles on the bosom of the Labrador current until the heated waters of the gulf stream cause them to vanish from human ken. Then can one form some idea of the immensity of the ice area discharged from the Greenland seas each year. Thousands of miles of valley are constantly emptying their contents into the bays and fiords of the north waters, whence the tides hurry the detachments southward to cumber the wide Atlantic.

The disposition of icebergs to turn turtle is one of their most dangerous propensities. It arises from several causes. When they start out from Greenland their bottoms are heavy with the detritus gathered in their glacial period, and this drops off at intervals as they move south, causing their center of gravity to change and the berg to assume new positions. The scientific theory of the formation of the vast submarine plateaus which extend from Labrador to Fundy, and are commonly known as the Grand banks of Newfoundland, is that they are the products of bergs during countless ages.—Leslie's Magazine.

Cannibalistic Scorpions.

During many years of scorpion hunting I never remembered to have seen two individuals living together in amity, and even their more tender relations are tainted at times with the unamiable habit of cannibalism. The males are decidedly smaller than their mates, whom they approach accordingly with the utmost caution. If the fair inamorata doesn't like the looks of her advancing suitor she settles the question offhand by making a murderous spring at him, catching him in her claws, stinging him to death and making a hearty meal off him. This is scarcely loverlike. On the other hand, if a dubious wife, the female scorpion is a devoted mother. She hatches her eggs in her own oviduct, brings forth her young alive—unlike her relations, the spiders—and carries them about on her back, to the number of fifty, during their innocent childhood, till they are of an age to shift for themselves in the struggle for existence.—Cornhill Magazine.

First Person Cremated In America.

The first white person lawfully cremated within the present limits of the United States, according to wishes and desires expressed by himself, was Colonel Henry Laurens, one of the Revolutionary patriots. He was born in Charleston, S. C., in the year 1724, and died on his plantation near that place on Dec. 8, 1792. His will, which he had requested them to open and read the next day after his death, was supplemented with the following: "I solemnly enjoin it upon my son, as an indispensable duty, that, as soon as he conveniently can after my decease, he cause my body to be wrapped in twelve yards of towcloth and burned until it be entirely consumed." The request was carried out to the letter and was the beginning of cremation in America.

English Characteristics.

The Englishman is less social than men of any other nationality; I mean he is less conscious of the ties which bind humanity together, his moral formation owes little to his relations with other men, he scarcely troubles himself about what they think, and if he ever considers the matter at all it makes no difference in his sentiments and actions. In short, the Englishman is to a certain extent a recluse; he is more aloof from the world in which he lives and the neighbors whom he elbows than the men of any other nationality.—Boutmy's "The English People."

Spanish Etiquette.

There is a curious story of how the Duke d'Aosta, when king of Spain, told a muleteer to whom he was talking to cover himself, the sun being hot, forgetting that by so doing he made him a grandee. Marshal Prim, to prevent this catastrophe, knocked the man's hat out of his hand, and according to some the muleteer had something to do with the assassination that followed a few days afterward.

The Exception.

"I am getting up a subscription list for the relief of the poor. Can't you put your family down, sir?"

"Madam, since you ask a personal question, I don't mind telling you that I can put 'em all down, except my wife's mother."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Sensible.

Cholly—Charming widow, isn't she? They say she is to marry again. Algy—I wouldn't want to be a widow's second husband. Cholly—Well, I'd rather be a widow's second husband than her first, doncher know.

Expensive.

"They say her wedding beggared description."

"Oh, more than that!"

"Indeed?"

"Yes. It beggared her father."

To Be Ironed.

Mr. Troomer—Where on earth is my new silk hat? I've looked everywhere for it. His Bride (sweetly)—You said you wanted it ironed, dear, so I have sent it to the laundry.

Caught the Idea.

Bluster—Do you mean to say that I am a liar? Blister—I hope that I could not do so ungentlemanly a thing. But I see you catch my idea.

There would not be so many open mouths if there were not so many open ears.—Hall.

Walking on the Ceiling.

Few people probably know what it is that enables flies to walk on the ceiling. It has been supposed that their ability to do so was due to the fact that each of their feet is a miniature air pump. This theory was found to be unsound, and it was then explained that the feat was made possible by means of a viscous substance which exuded from the hairs on their feet. This theory also was abandoned as being only partly accountable for the facts, and the preferred explanation is that flies are enabled to walk upside down on smooth substances by the help of capillary adhesion. An investigator has found by a series of nice calculations, such as the weighing and measuring of hairs, that a fly would be upheld by capillary attraction were it four-ninths as heavy again as it is. Each fly is supposed to be furnished with from 10,000 to 12,000 minute foot hairs. These exude an oily fluid, and it is because of the repulsion between a watery surface and this oily liquid that a fly finds it difficult to mount a dampened glass.—Harper's Weekly.

Spoiled It All.

A farmer went to hear John Wesley preach. Wesley said he would take up three topics of thought. He was talking chiefly about money. His first was, "Get all you can." The farmer nudged a neighbor and said: "This is strange preaching. I never heard the like before. This is very good." Then Wesley discoursed on "Industry," "Activity," "Living to Purpose," and reached his second division, "Save all you can." The farmer became more excited. "Was there ever anything like this?" he said. Wesley denounced thriftlessness and waste, and he satirized the willful wickedness which lavishes in luxury, and the farmer rubbed his hands, and he thought, "All this I have been taught from my youth up," and what with getting and what with hoarding it seemed to him that "salvation" had come to his house. But Wesley advanced to his third head, which was "Give all you can." "Ah, dear; ah, dear," said the farmer; "he has gone and spoiled it all!"

Heliotropism.

Heliotropism is the peculiar property shown by many plants, notably the sunflower, of always turning toward the sun. In the case of seedlings the phenomenon is especially marked. The cells on the light side are apparently retarded in growth, thus causing a curvature toward that side. Professor Romanes experimented with an intermittent light, such as that of an electric spark discharge, upon mustard seedlings and found the heliotropic effect produced in this way far greater than that caused by the sun or any other form of light. Strange to say, however, this abnormal influence is unaccompanied by the generation of phlorophyll, the green coloring matter in plants which requires sunshine for its proper production.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Emergency Medicines

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in case of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite if not a household necessity is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn, it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood-poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflammation sets in which insures a quick recovery. For sale by R. G. Shoults, Sonoma, Cal.

Funny.

Borroughs—Mr. Merchant's out, you say? Why, he had an appointment with me here. That's very funny. New Office Boy—Yes, sir; I guess he thought it was too. Anyways, he was laughin' when he went out.

Too Much For Him.

"Oh, zees langviage!" complained the distinguished foreigner. "Your wife he is upstairs when I come in and you call to heem: 'Monsieur d'Esprit have arrive. Hurry up and come down.'"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Abscess

W. H. Harrison, of Cleveland, Miss., writes, August 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg. So one day I went to J. F. Lord's store (who is now in Denver, Col.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment; I got a 50-c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world."

Abscesses, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility. They may, however, result from blows or from foreign bodies introduced into the skin or flesh, such as splinters, thorns, etc. Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

Not That Kind.

"What did you think of Philadelphia?"

"I never was more imposed on in my life," answered Colonel Stillwell of Kentucky. "They told me Philadelphia was famous for its mint, and all they showed me was a place where they make money."—Washington Star.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble, and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend Mr. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved, and when I had taken the third dose was entirely cured. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for putting this great remedy in the hands of mankind." For sale by R. G. Shoults, Sonoma, Cal.

HE WAS A REAL FARMER.

Hence He Couldn't See the Poetic Side of Farm Life.

"Oh, yes," a man in the hotel lobby was overheard to say. "I'm a real farmer now. My farm only costs me about $75 per month now, so you can see I'm getting along." Then the man was heard to comment upon farm labor.

"It's all right to talk about the poetry of farm life," he said, "but if farm life is poetry I want the prosiest sort of prose in mine. Is there any poetry in greasing harness? Do you find any rhyme and rhythm in milking a double jointed, back action cow twice a day? Well, I guess not."

"But there's the scenery," his companion interjected, "and the smell of grain"—

"Yes," said the amateur farmer, "and the chiggers, and the red bugs, and holes in the fence, and rats in the seed corn, and the potatoes sprouting. And if you are through plowing for awhile and haven't anything better to do you fix the wheelbarrow for recreation, or you can see that the pen is made hog proof, or that the water trough doesn't leak too much. Then if everything else fails and it's too rainy to do anything else you can get out a second-hand kit and fix the crupper on the harness or nail strips of boiler plate on the feed box so that crib eater of a plug won't have too many splinters in him when he dies. Oh, you can bet I'm too much of a farmer to look at the poetic side of it. I'm a realist farmer; that's what I am."—Dallas News.

Neglected Colds

Every part of the mucous membrane, the nose, throat, ears head and lungs, is subjected to disease and blight from neglected colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is a pleasant and effective remedy. 25c, 50c, $1. W. Akendrick, Valley Mills, Tex., writes, "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup for coughs and throat troubles. It is a pleasant and most effective remedy." Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

Chance For a Fortune.

A would be grateful public is waiting to reward the man who will invent a car window that can always be opened easily in summer, but can only be opened by consent of the majority in winter.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Economical.

Husband—You are not economical. Wife—Well, if you don't call a woman economical who saves her wedding dress for a possible second marriage I'd like to know what you think economy is like.—Glasgow Times.

We judge ourselves by what we feel capable of doing, while others judge us by what we have already done.—Longfellow.

Beautiful Women

Plump cheeks, flushed with the soft glow of health and a pure complexion, make all women beautiful. Take a small dose of Herbine after each meal; it will prevent constipation and help digest what you have eaten. 50c. Mrs. Wm. M. Stroud, Midlothian, Texas, writes, May 31, 1901. "We have used Herbine in our family for eight years, and found it the best medicine we ever used for constipation, bilious fever and malaria." Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal.
